

er last year. Bryan
and more team
aint balling which
mely cool because
hoot Coach," said
tt Fineman, and
er "with really good
fried chicken" says
e Milton Lee. This
w, more creative
husiasm kept them
strong throughout

Taken down: play
crowd around their
ponent after a success
tackle.

Senior Ryan Barbi
sprints down the field
a major play in the ga
against Campo.

Junior Rory Bonnin
senior David Molm
give each other congr
latory hugs.

Stan, the amazing team doctor, fi
up a player's wounds.

or Jordan Remer, and Senior Luke Yoder jog off the field.

Senior quarterback Will Co
the ball behind the defense.

A Campolinda player gets down as he tries to gain yar

Varsity cheerleaders go up for an important third down conversion late in the game.

Senior Peter Modera and 2006 graduate Eric Yao howl in laughter.

If the team looks on as their other half dominates the opposition. The team is now positioning for extra benches.

Junior Alex Menke and senior Brendan Newland destroy a Campolindo player.

The Fans

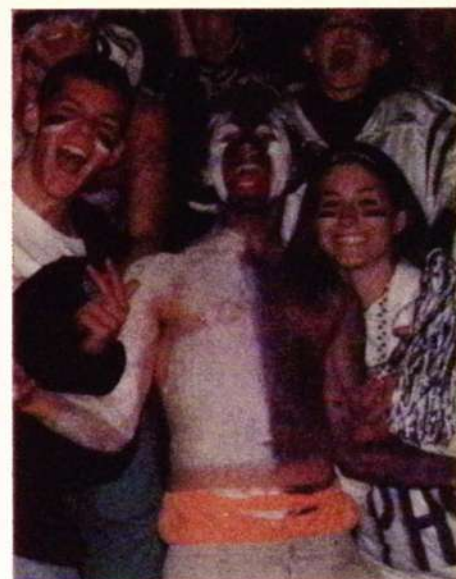

Anne Cole and Kara Felson come decked out to the games and cheer for their team.

The Field

It highlights our ups and downs and defends our pride in the eyes of the players and fans.

Seniors Tom Rafton, Makenna Ralston, and junior Doug Marks show excessive Piedmont spirit.

Rory Bonnin uses his immense strength to break away from the defender.

"What now?!" Chase Smiegel roars after an important touchdown.

The Varsity Cheerleaders ignite the crowd during Homecoming.

Varsity Cheer

ly to Be

ight Lights

s teams, practices
of the school year,
and Frosh football
field and
mid-August
The eager
men and
t hard to
lves a spot
ity. They

veral hours, some-
for the infamous

This year, many kids with a wide range of skill joined the team. Coach Humphries says he sees quite a bit of talent this year, and the teams are looking pretty good: "They are able to run the ball with power and speed," abilities that will be helpful playing against Piedmont's rivals. "We have a really strong defense this year," says sophomore Matt Bocks. Their defense was key to their strong season.

Joey Andrada, 9

Freshman Ralston Louie. Makes a run for the end zone as freshman Bill Carter protects him.

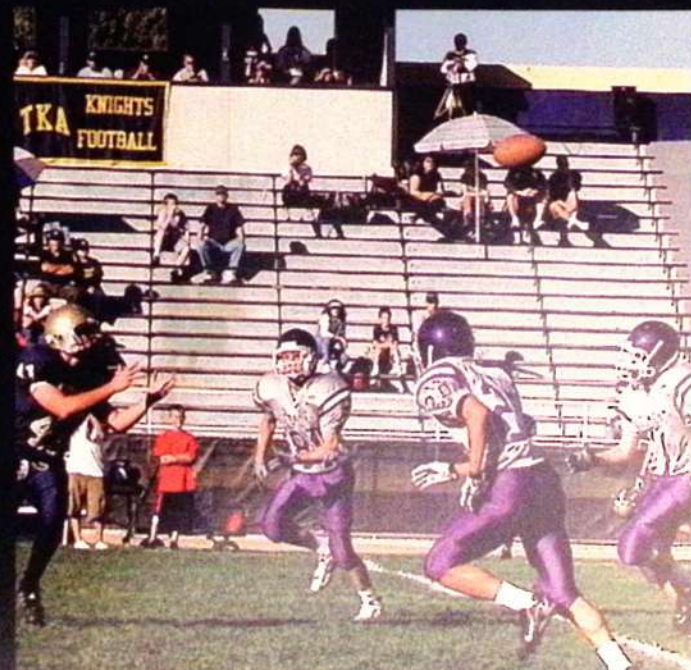

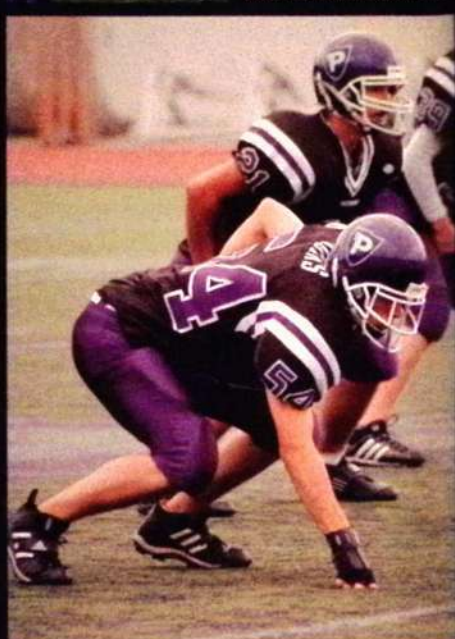

Sophomore Joey Holland starts down his opponent and gets ready to pass him up.

Freshman Ralston Louie blows by the opposing team, and moves the team further down field.

An opposing linebacker chases Ralston Louie, 9, as he runs the ball into the end zone for another Piedmont touchdown.

An opposing player prepares to catch a punt as the Frosh close in for the quick tackle.

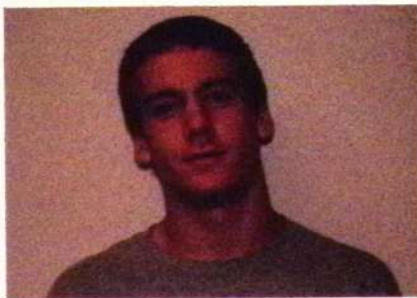

Jacob Stein 9 & Cormac Craigie 9 watch their team play D.

Trash players stop a running play with a three man tackle. Cormac Craigie, 9, gets low, and gets ready to dodge a hit.

the Junior Varsity team stops on the field during practice, to listen to their coaches' directions on how to improve.

Practice

"Practice is a lot more work, without the glory you get on game day." -Freshman Carl Hendrickson

Game Time

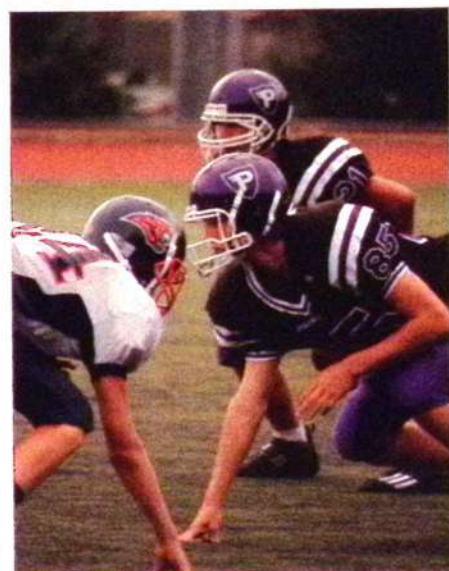

"Games are so intense that I have to force myself to not pee my pants" -Junior Danny Farmer

Starting JV sophomore quarterback Jeremy George calls a huddle to go over the next play they are going to run.

The suspense builds as sophomores Trevor Flesham and Keaton Arden wait for the ball to be snapped.

Freshman quarterback Cormac Craigie looks deep for an open receiver as his teammates and coaches look on.

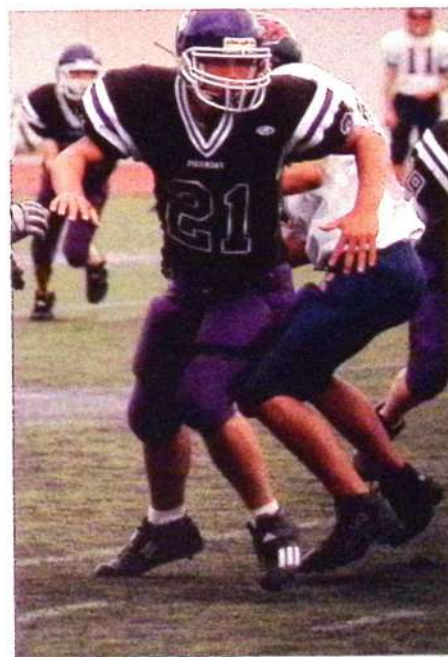

The JV defensive line stares into the eyes of the other team as they await the snap of the ball.

Freshman Football Captain Winters Healy kicks off at the beginning of the game.

Freshman Steven Yao tackles an opposing ball-carrier into the ground, ending the play.

Sophomore Trevor Flesham rushes the opponent's offensive line and looks to tackle the quarterback.