VARSITY FOOTBALL

After a grueling summer schedule of double days, countless receiver drills, and intense line drills, the Varsity Football team's hard work finally paid off. After player changes early in the season, the team had to gather the determination to face down opponents with new personnel, so flexibility was crucial to moving forward. "As one of the players called up to Varsity, I knew it was important to work well with the original Varsity team, and I think we did," said Matt Rogers (10). Getting called up to play Varsity was a big deal, an event for the entire team. "We may be short on numbers this year but we have a lot of heart to make up for it," said team captain, Michael Garrett (12). The Varsity Football team fought the odds of their small numbers, and during their season of growth, strived to transition to something new.

Left: One of the team's amazing quarterbacks, Eric Huppert, (11) readies himself for the snap, which once released will allow for the defensive line to racket into the only line of protection for Huppert, his offensive line.

Right: Using his height to reach over a defender, Zane Myers (12) leaps towards the sky, grabs the ball and successfully rips it away from the grasping arms of another defender to step into the end zone for a touchdown. This was a very successful play and a crucial turning point in the game.

Right: Jack Walters (12) excitedly runs towards Nate Mamuyac (11), lifting Mamuyac into the air after his amazing catch and touchdown. For many on the team, Mamuyac's touchdown was the most rewarding moment of the game.

Far Right: Sprinting with the ball, George Fullerton (11), races down the field, ready to juke any opponent who dares to try to tackle him. Despite an elbow injury, Fullerton was a powerful offensive and defensive weapon on this year's team, and was a key component in several of the team's wins.

Far Left: With the protection of his offensive line, Eric Huppert (11) rolls out right and runs past the Albany defensive line to pick up some yards.

Left: Jake Adams (12) races towards Albany's offense to make a tackle and stop the ball.

Right: Foreign exchange student Axel Sander (12), or "The Swede," kicks off against Lakeland during the team's trip to Ontario.

"Although the team makes mistakes, we never give up, and we never quit because of our love for the game."
-Michael Garrett (12)

"As KB always says, football is the contrast between thunder and lightning."
-Jake Adams (12)

"We've run into some trouble, but we've fought and never given up, and I'm really proud of our team."
-Eric Huppert (11)

"Although things may not have gone our way, it was the most fun I've ever had and I'm proud of our team."
-Jack Walters (12)

Left: Making a break with the ball, Michael Garrett (12), swiftly jukes a defender, finding a large expanse of empty field in front of him that ultimately resulting in a sizable gain.
Right: In an attempt to escape being tackled, quarterback Stevey Rowe (11) prepares to use his free arm to ward off the already off balanced Lakeridge defender, and runs for a gain.

Right: John McAvoy (11), a powerful player, uses his strength and mass to easily tackle an offensive player in the open field.
Far Right: Eric Huppert (11) gets ready to throw the ball as a Lakeridge defender approaches. The defender, however, rolled out right and rushed in to tackle him, but the collected quarterback stayed calm and completed a pass for a crucial gain.

Far Left: Max Elliott (11) and Gabe Sober (12) are in sync, using teamwork to tackle an opposing player.

Left: Oisin Collins (11) protects quarterback Eric Huppert (11) as they run down the field.

Below: Zach Curliano (11) gets set as Joshua Lowhurst (11) prepares to snap the ball.

Athletics

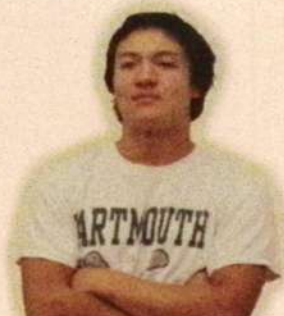

Right: Jack Barney (9) looks ahead while Austin Sun (9) leaps into the air to try and grab the ball for a successful snag.

Below: Using quick speed, Kyle Dalton (10) runs down field, spots the ball in the air, and pursues it to make a catch.

Below Right: Ryan Sullivan (10) holds the ball in kicking position for William Meredith (10), to help Piedmont win by scoring a significant field goal.

Although special teams are often overlooked, their talent is essential.

"Even though we had a tough season, the team learned a lot and could not have survived without the support of our team members."

-Charles Tuan (10)

"Teddy doesn't know football nor does he have time for it. All Teddy knows is bringin' pain on the fools who don't know what time it is."

-Teddy Heafey (10)

Left: Hustling down the field, Charles Tuan (10) gains yards.

Below: With Brian Lee (9) ready to protect him, Weston Brown (9) prepares to snap the ball to the team's first string quarterback, Ryan Sullivan (10).

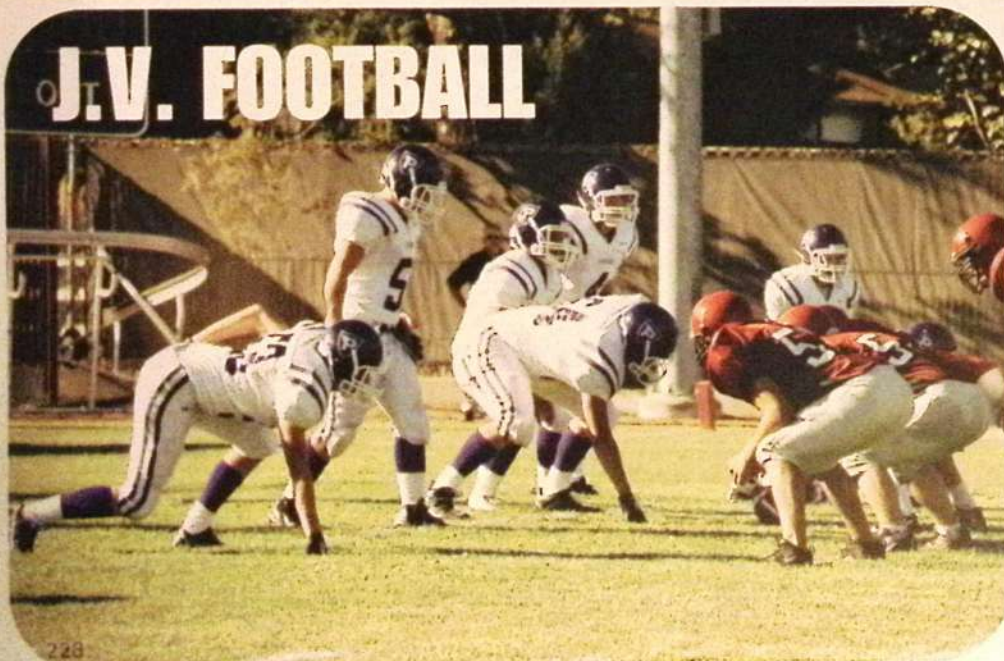

Left: In the Albany game Milo Davis (10) attempts to sprint out of a tackle and run the ball down field.

Above: Charles Tuan (10) rushes to make a block, allowing William Meredith (10) to advance the ball.

J.V. FOOTBALL

Since the Frosh and J.V. teams joined together, Piedmont got double the power and double the strength. Freshman Spencer Kim said that being promoted to J.V. "was a challenge, but still a great learning experience." Everyday practice and conditioning helped the newly formed team bring home Piedmont wins. Quarterback Ryan Sullivan (10) helped Sophomores work together with the Freshmen in a deadly combination. Captain William Meredith (10) said, "I know that I'm playing Piedmont football when I make a good play and my heart skips a beat." Because of their vigorous summer practices and double-days, the team was ready to tackle the toughest challenges and the most outrageous teams. Along with the coaches, the J.V. Football team took this honor and respect with them wherever they went.
